I met Dr. Jack when I was searching for speakers for our SAHRA (Sacramento Area HR Association) monthly meetings. From our first conversation, I knew Jack was the right person to speak to our group, and he far exceeded even my high expectations and standards. Not only was he funny and engaging, he truly had the entire group spellbound throughout his presentation. As importantly, his message was on point and impactful. Jack has it all – style, substance, and insight. He is a very gifted speaker and has that special something that makes people stop and listen. It is something you cannot define, but Jack has “it.”

I was even more fortunate to get to know Jack personally when we both dined with the SAHRA President. She and I were both very impressed with Jack.
